

The ISLAND of
HAWAII™
One of the HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

You don't need to be a Hawai'i resident or a U.S. citizen to be married in the islands. There's no waiting period and blood tests are not required. However, you must complete a marriage license application and appear together before an official marriage license agent. A marriage license currently costs $65*. It is recommended that couples complete the State of Hawai'i online application with payment by credit card before meeting with an agent.

Visit <http://marriage.ehawaii.gov> for more information.

*the license application fee is subject to change without notice.

LOVE. Whether you're forever in love or newly in love, Hawai'i's largest island has a heart for romantics as expansive as its 4,028 square mile acreage. With one inspiring spot after another, the memories of your time on Hawai'i Island will make you fall in love over and over again.

Imagine a lush tropical garden setting embraced by birdsong or on the beach where the sun-kissed sand and surf tickle at your toes. The perfect spot for a proposal, wedding, honeymoon, babymoon, or vow renewal, the diversity of the island of Hawai'i can fulfill almost any romantic request.

Beautiful lei are always a part of any event. There are no customary male or female lei as the significance of a lei is not necessarily the style or type, but rather the aloha with which it is given or received. A reception - pā'ina or lū'au - completes the celebration.
